

How To: Add Strip to Payment Methods

Adding Stripe as your payment method on our platform is simple and secure. With just a few quick steps, you'll be ready to manage transactions and keep your sales running smoothly.

Before You Start: If you haven't completed your vendor registration yet, please do that first and come back. You'll need the welcome email with your registration link and password to access your vendor account, check your inbox or spam folder if you don't see it. Our free Vendor Registration Guide can help you every step of the way.

Step 1: Navigate To Your Payment Methods

To get to your store, head to the left side of your screen and hover over the Settings tab. A menu will slide out—second from the top, you'll see Payment. Click it, and you'll be taken straight to the payment methods page. Next, click "Add a Payment Method" to be directed to Stripe.

Step 2: Set Up Your Stripe Account

To start setting up your Stripe account, click the Connect with Stripe button. This will take you to MiX's Stripe setup page.

Add your company email to begin. (Pro tip: Stripe recommends that your account be created by someone with significant responsibility within your company, like a business owner or financial manager.)

Next, you'll be prompted to create a password. You'll also see an option to connect with a Google account, but we recommend completing setup by following the standard steps here.

Step 2: Set Up Your Stripe Account (Cont.)

After that, a QR code will appear for two-factor authentication (2FA). Choose the method that works best for you: scan the QR code, use your phone number, or receive a security key. This step ensures that your account stays secure every time you log in.

Finally, you'll be given the option to download your backup security code. We highly recommend saving this in a secure place, it'll come in handy if you ever have trouble accessing your account.
